Grading Work Is Now Underway

We're excited to share that site mass grading is officially underway. Over the next 8–10 weeks, you'll see steady progress as the land is shaped for future streets, utilities, and public spaces.

All required erosion and sediment control systems are fully installed and active. These protections are mandated by both the City and the Watershed District, and we're operating under strict permit conditions to ensure the surrounding wetlands, open spaces, and stormwater systems remain protected. Our team is performing the required inspections and maintenance to stay fully compliant throughout this phase.

Additional updates will be shared as work progresses.
